Asset transfer - working with communities to keep it local

14 January 2011, 12 noon to 4.30pm

Hebden Bridge Town Hall, Hebden Bridge, West Yorkshire

Calderdale Council has gained national recognition through a series of groundbreaking projects which put local communities in control of public buildings and land.

Now we are holding a national seminar to show you how asset transfer has worked for our communities.

Don't miss this seminar if you are:

- a public sector organisation considering asset transfer
- a community organisation hoping to take ownership of a public building

You'll learn how we developed a practical way through the process and benefit from our learning, successes and mistakes.

Most importantly, you'll learn how it could really work for you.

This event is generously supported by the Development Trusts Association's Asset Transfer Unit.

Charges: £95 (or £50 if you are a voluntary organisation or charity.)

All profits will be donated to the Hebden Bridge Community Association, who recently took over running Hebden Bridge Town Hall. They are developing the building into a community 'hub' with meeting space for local groups, services, social enterprises and events.
